4	Cyber-Wellness Tip – Knowing what you child is watching or surfing As digital natives, our children are heavy users of the internet/media. As such, it is important that we monitor what they surf and view on the internet/media to ensure that they are not influenced negatively by the digital content which they view. We would like to partner parents to inculcate good cyber-wellness habits and to be responsible users of the internet / media. For a start, it is important that parents know what your child is watching or surfing. The content should be age-appropriate and relevant. It would be advisable to place some Parental Controls over the devices so that you can be assured that your child can only access appropriate content. Do refer to the link below for a guide on setting Parental Controls. https://www.schoolbag.edu.sg/story/guide-for-parents-on-setting-parental-controls	ST1 and ST3
